HISTORY OF MALDON

With a population of over 15,000, Maldon is an historic maritime and market town in the County of Essex situated on the Blackwater estuary. It is an ancient Anglo-Saxon burgh that was granted a Royal Charter by Henry II in 1171.

From the Iron Age, it has been settled in by the Romans, Saxons, Vikings and Normans and is the site of the famous Battle of Maldon fought between Vikings and the Anglo-Saxons in 991AD.

Maldon is famous for many things, such as the Mud Race Run in May, Maldon Sea Salt and the Thames barges that still sail from the Hythe. The geographic location of Maldon provides a varied landscape and is popular with nature-lovers in pursuit of various leisure activities. On the High Street you will find numerous stores and restaurants.
